Women society welcomes death warrants against Nirbhaya case convicts

By A Correspondent

ITANAGAR, Jan 08: Arunachal Pradesh Women's Welfare Society has welcomed the death warrant issued to the four convicts in the Nirbhaya gangrape-murder case. The organisation termed it a landmark decision.

A Delhi court on Tuesday issued death warrants against all the four convicts in the Nirbhaya gangrape-murder case and ordered they be hanged on January 22 at 7 am in Tihar jail, over seven years after the brutal crime sparked outrage and anger across the country.

The death warrant, also known as black warrant, addressed to the office of the Tihar jail chief, was issued by Additional Sessions Judge Satish Kumar Arora against Mukesh (32), Pawan Gupta (25), Vinay Sharma (26) and Akshay Kumar Singh (31), all of whom are on death row.

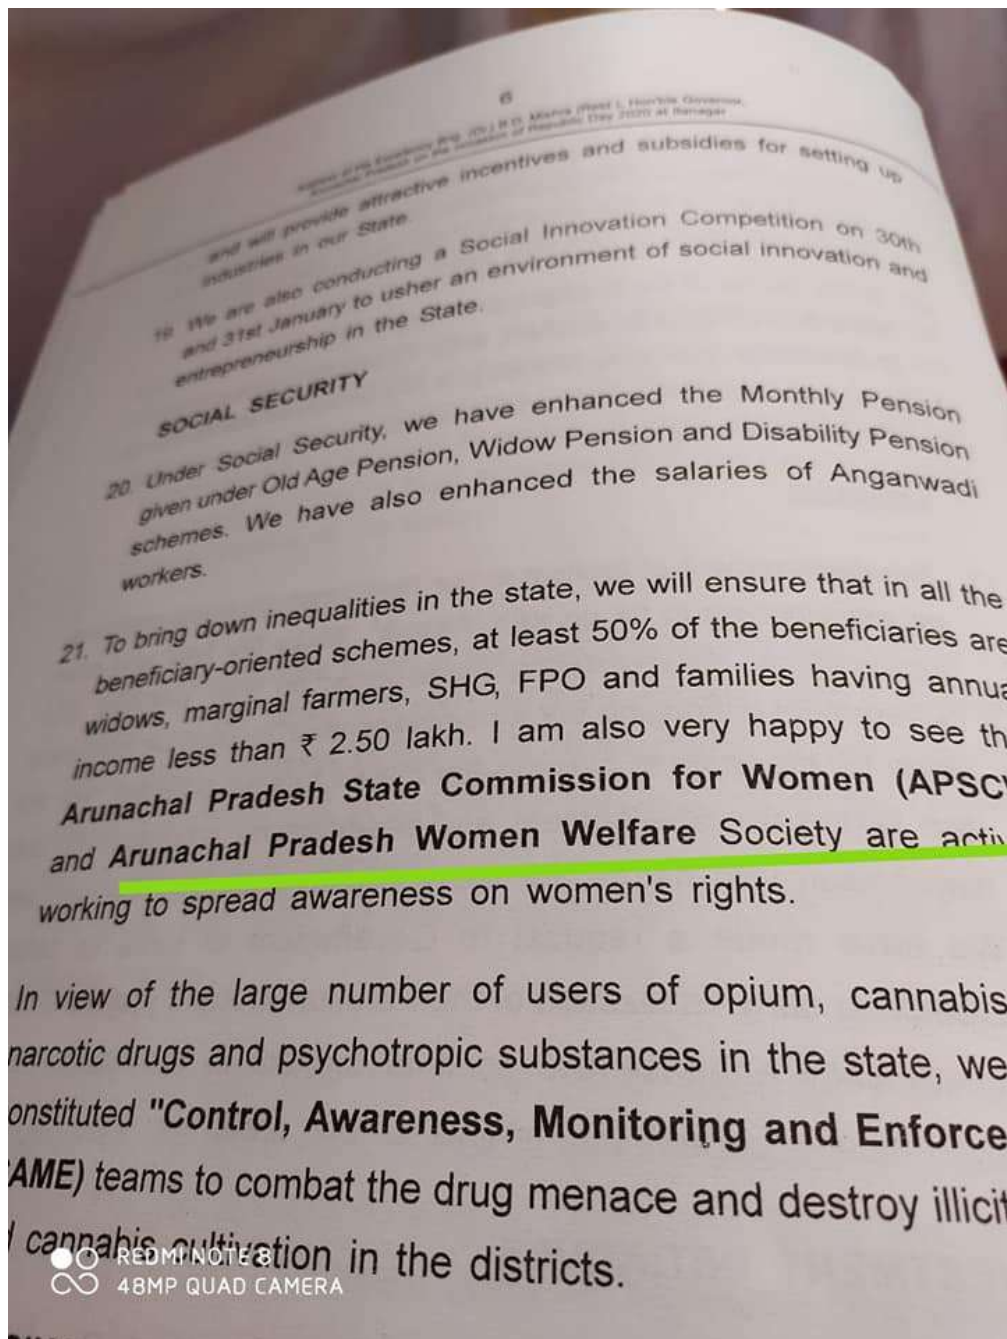

Ram Singh, one of the six accused, allegedly committed suicide in Tihar Jail. A juvenile, who was among the accused, was convicted by a juvenile justice board and was released from a reformation home after serving a three-year term.

APWWS in a statement lauded the courage shown by Nirbhaya's mother Asha Devi who spearheaded the fight for justice in the long legal battle. The 23-year-old paramedic student Nirbhaya was gangraped and brutally assaulted on the intervening night of December 16-17, 2012 inside a moving bus in south Delhi by six persons before being thrown out on the road. She died on December 29, 2012 at Mount Elizabeth Hospital in Singapore.

Woman pregnant with twins dies, relatives allege medical negligence, doctors deny

Govt to scale up Covid-19 patients,

APWWS seeks inquiry by govt

Staff Reporter

ITANAGAR, Sep 28: A woman pregnant with twins died on Monday morning while on the way to the Tamo Riba Institute of Health & Medical Sciences (TRIHS) in Naharlagun. The woman had been taken to two hospitals in Itanagar before being taken to the TRIHS.

The deceased, identified as Desu Pertin Jerang, passed away at around 9:30 am. She was reportedly suspected of having antepartum haemorrhage, as she had been bleeding continuously since 3:30 am.

The husband and relatives of the deceased blamed senior gynaecologist at the RK Mission Hospital (RKM), Itanagar, Dr Posting Bayang and the staff of Heema Hospital for Jerang's death, accusing them of sheer negligence.

"Serious bleeding started around 3 am in the morning today. I called Dr Posting Bayang many a time at around 5:40 am, but did not get response. Left with no option, we took the patient to Heema Hospital, but we were told that there was no doctor. So we went to RKM and requested the emergency doctor to attend to her as she was continuously bleeding," claimed Tami Pangu, a relative of the deceased.

"In the meantime, I again called Dr Bayang and he picked up the call and asked us to take the patient to Heema Hospital. The hospital's staff refused to admit the patient. When I told them that we were referred by Dr Bayang, they asked us to get the patient antigen tested. After that, they told us that there was no doctor," Pangu went on to claim.

"Just because of the negligence of the doctor and Heema Hospital staffs, we lost three members of our family today. We call it a murder. The government should take action against the erring officers," Pangu said.

"They could have asked us straight to go to the TRIHS. Had we not wasted our valuable time transporting the patient back and forth, we could have saved my wife. This should not be repeated in the future," said the grief-stricken husband, Talak Jerang.

Meanwhile, Dr Bayang denied the allegation of negligence. He stated that the patient first came to him on 18 September, when he referred her to Dr Jomson Bagra at Niba Hospital, Papu Nallah, as the RKM was closed.

"This morning I got a missed call and message from the patient's relative, informing that the patient was in a serious condition. I suggested to them to go to the TRIHS or Heema Hospital, if Heema was ready to admit," Dr Bayang claimed.

On the allegation of not responding to the phone calls, he said he was not on-call duty. "However, as soon as I saw the missed call and message, I responded and referred the patient to the TRIHS as she required multidisciplinary treatment," he said.

Dr Bayang said he was attending to a complicated delivery case of his colleague's patient in the labour room when the patient's relative called him. "After knowing that the patient had been taken to Heema Hospital, I immediately referred the patient to the TRIHS and informed the doctor colleague at the TRIHS about the seriousness of the patient as she required multidisciplinary treatment," he said. (Contd. on P-3)

ITANAGAR, Sep 28: The state government recently took stock of the Covid-19 situation and proposed a action plan for immediate augmentation of services and required intervention for Covid-19 management by scaling up the health facilities for moderate and severe Covid-19 patients.

In a meeting attended by the chief secretary, the principal finance secretary, planning commissioner, commissioner and secretary to CM, health officials and others on 25 September, officers noted that the DHCH in Midpu is not being utilized fully, and suggested that it be used as a multi-utility Covid management facility.

The DHCH will operate as a flu clinic and a treatment facility for mild/moderate symptomatic patients.

(From P-1) On being contacted, Dr Bagra defended Dr Bayang and stated that, after examining the seriousness of the patient's health, Dr Bayang had referred her to the TRIHMS. Dr Bagra also claimed that the patient was having a respiratory issue when Dr Bayang had referred her to him on 18 September at Niba Hospital.

"We are deeply shocked and sorry for the unfortunate loss of three lives. However, the word 'negligence' is being used here. This is very wrong. If Dr Bayang was at all negligent, he wouldn't have attended to the complicated delivery case at Heema," Dr Bagra said.

He also appealed to the media to be responsible while reporting sensitive issues, adding that Dr Bayang's image was unnecessarily tarnished on social media.

APWWS mourns death, seeks inquiry

The Arunachal Pradesh Women's Welfare Society (APWWS) expressed shock and sorrow over the death of the pregnant woman and her unborn twins, and urged the state government to initiate an inquiry into the deaths, which it said appeared to be a case of medical negligence.

"It is unacceptable that women continue to die in childbirth due to lack of health facility," the APWWS stated in a release.

It said adequate compensation should be paid to the bereaved family by the hospital authorities.

The society also requested the health department to ensure that such tragic incidents do not recur.

"Maternity health needs to be looked into, as many pregnant women have not been able to access medical facility on time due to the Covid-19 pandemic leading to closure of hospitals time and again in the capital region," it said.

State records...

(From P-1) All 21 cases detected in Lower Siang are primary contacts.

West Siang reported 17 cases among primary contacts. Four others are custody prisoners and three are returnees from Assam and the ICR.

APWWS raises concern...

(From P-1) It appreciated the state police for its strong action against drug abuse and peddling in the state.

"Police forces are working hard and have caught huge quantities of drugs and arrested peddlers from the Capital Complex and various part of the state, which is worthy of appreciation," it said.

The APWWS wholehearted appreciated the state government and police department for launching an intensive operation against drug abuse and peddling, which it said, "is killing our younger generations and have ruined many families."

It further welcomed the state government's recent decision to take stringent action against the erring employees after giving one-time opportunity to report themselves.

"If the state government can draw up some mechanism, including mandatory drug testing prior to joining government jobs, and earmark sufficient budget to create extensive awareness in schools and colleges and rehabilitation, it will help in curbing the menace," the society said.

"It is seen that many families are struggling with the rehabilitation of their children who are affected by drugs," the APWWS added.

Contentious 'Bill': APWWS calls for scrapping of clauses 42 & 43

ITANAGAR, Aug 22: Shedding light on the contentious "Arunachal Pradesh Marriage and Inheritance of Property Rights Bill", the Arunachal Pradesh Women's Welfare Society (APWWS) has urged the Arunachal Pradesh State Commission for Women (APSCW) to scrap clauses 42 and 43 from the proposed bill keeping in view the public sentiment and the State's interest.

The 'development' was made after the APWWS had an urgent meeting at Naharlagun today where it discussed the draft 'bill' with its members and "unanimously" decided to press the APSCW to scrap clauses 42 and 43.

Clause 42 in the proposed bill states that "An APST woman married to a non-APST man shall enjoy any immovable property inherited from the head of the family in her lifetime, subject to the basic limit that the properties so inherited would devolve, in the event of her death, upon the heirs of her ancestors from whom she inherited."

Clause 43 of the draft bill states: "An APST woman married to a non-APST man shall enjoy the right of any immovable property owned and acquired by her in her lifetime. In the event of her death, her husband and her heirs would have full rights for it for disposal and alienation to any indigenous tribal of Arunachal Pradesh."

The Society further stated that the rest of the proposed bill should be submitted to the govt, once again, after scrapping of the two aforementioned clauses.

Society urges APSCW to scrap two clauses

ITANAGAR, Aug 22: The suggestions of the Arunachal Pradesh State Commission for Women's (APSCW) draft on the Arunachal Pradesh Marriage and Inheritance of Property Bill, 2021, continues to draw criticism and calls for withdrawal of the contentious clauses in it.

The Arunachal Pradesh Women's Welfare Society (APWWS) has written to the Commission to scrap clauses 42 and 43 "keeping in view the public sentiment and state's interest".

The APWWS made the suggestion after an urgent meeting in Naharlagun where it discussed the proposed draft Bill with its members and unanimously decided to submit to the APSCW to scrap the clauses.

Clause 42 in the proposed draft Bill states that "An APST woman married to non-APST man shall enjoy any immovable property inherited from the head of the family in her lifetime, subject to the basic limit that the properties so inherited would devolve, in the event of her death, upon the heirs of her ancestors from whom she inherited."

Clause 43 of the proposed draft bill states that "An APST woman married to non-APST man shall enjoy the right of any immovable property owned and acquired by her in her lifetime. In the event of her death, her husband and her heirs would have full rights for it for disposal and alienation to any indigenous tribe of Arunachal Pradesh."

The society further stated that the rest of the proposed Bill should be re-submitted to the government once again after scrapping the two clauses.

The Cultural and Literary Society of Mishmi (CALSOM) women wing has also made a similar call.

A statement from CALSOM said that it would like to draw the attention to the objections raised by the various organizations and people on social media regarding the two clauses.

It said it took a unanimous decision to call for the clauses to be scrapped "keeping in view public sentiment and state interest".

The state government has already said that the draft will not be tabled in the upcoming Assembly session.
